Dear Dick

Last year you expressed an interest in visiting Strategic Air Command Headquarters. The invitation is still open, and I think that our activities would be of interest to you. Let me know which dates may be convenient and we will make the necessary arrangements. If you can arrive the afternoon before the selected date, we'd be delighted to have you join us for dinner.

Mr. Colby would be welcome also. If you think he would be interested in a visit at this time, we would like to write him.

Best regards,

Sincerely

Dear Glen:

Thanks so much for the congratulations. It really is a challenging position, but then who wants one that is not.

I do hope that I can get out there soon. I am looking up schedules and so forth, and as soon as I can see my way clear, I will be in touch with you to work out a timetable that will suit your convenience.

With every good wish,

Faithfully,

Vernon A. Walters

Dear Dick

Congratulations on the assumption of your new duties as Deputy Director, Central Intelligence Agency. This challenging position, with its unequalled opportunity for service to our country, will undoubtedly be a great source of personal satisfaction to you.

In January of last year, we were privileged to have Dick Helms and a party of your colleagues here at Offutt for briefings on the Strategic Air Command and I am pleased to offer you the same invitation. I think that current knowledge of our activities would be of interest to you. Let me know the dates which best fit your schedule and we will make the necessary arrangements. If you can arrive the afternoon before the selected date, we'd be delighted to have you join us for dinner.

Best regards.

Sincerely
